RidgeGear RGH4 Full Body Harness Medium

Product Images

Product Code: S00-0661/M

Short Description

The RGH4 combines the basic fall arrest harness with a work positioning belt in one unit. This comfortable harness is designed for operatives who spend a lot of time working at height and in exposed areas. The RGH4 is a "multi task" harness and will allow operatives to access almost any area in safety using a combination of the RidgeGear products available.

Fitted with a rear D and two side D rings mounted to the belt
The wide belt adds comfort and provides lumbar support to the operative
Belt is also fitted with three gear loops for carrying tools leaving the hands free thus maintaining the required three points of contact when climbing
Good load bearing capacity, making this harness the ideal choice for the professional Fully adjustable
Fitted with rip stitch indicators

In the interests of safety, this item is non-returnable and non-refundable (unless faulty)
