Product Code: C00-4145

Short Description

Equipped with all the measurement features you're likely to need, the MM-200 from Tempo Communications is a workhorse multimeter for most technicians.

Built to international safety standards, the MM-200 performs all the tests any electrician would want from a multimeter. Features like "BeepJack" help prevent damage when leads are attached to the wrong terminals for the type of test selected. Fully auto-ranging or manual—the choice is yours.

The backlit LCD helps when testing in those awkward cupboards.

Supplied with a zipper case and high-quality safety test leads:
