

Mills Longitudinal & Circumferential Sheath Stripping Tool

Product Images

Product Code: E00-7643

SPECIFICATION

- Length 6.10" (155mm)
- Weight 158g
- Material Body-Plastics

Function

1. Slits rings & moves PVC, PE, rubber, lead sheath or other jacket materials cables from Ø 25mm
2. Designed with interchangeable double-ended replacement blade with adjustable cutting depth (0-5mm) for each unique cable application.
3. 10/20-30mm scaled on tool for slitting length reference.
4. Snap closure mechanism designed for better safety and easier storage.

Short Description

A specialist ratchet cable splitter that can be used for both longitudinal and circumferential stripping on most cables.

Formerly E00-7407, E00-7294.

Description

A specialist ratchet cable splitter that can be used for both longitudinal and circumferential stripping on most cables.

The sheath stripper will slit most jacket materials and is capable of both midspan entry or end cable stripping applications.

The replaceable blade can be adjusted for sheath depth / thickness from 0 to 5.0mm.

Features:

- Slits and rings PVC, PE, rubber, and other cable jacket materials on cables from 25mm diameter
- Reversible double-ended replaceable blade with adjustable cutting depth 0-5mm for each unique cable application.
- 10/20/30mm scale for slitting length reference.
- For midspan or end cable slit and ring applications.

Formerly E00-7407.

Ref: 127420